

Baptism of a Drunk

One evening a preacher held a country-type baptism.

This is where those desiring baptism are submerged into a shallow pond.

Many people gather around either to be baptized or to watch with curiosity at the baptism.

On this occasion a drunk man wandered up to the scene, and stood next to the preacher.

The preacher unknowingly dunked the drunk into the water, then quickly brought him up.

He said to the drunk, "Did you find the Holy Spirit?"

The drunk shook his head and said, "No."

The preacher then dunked him and again repeated, "Did you find the Holy Spirit?"

Again the drunk shook his head.

The preacher then dunked him a third time, only held his head underwater for about 30 seconds.

The preacher then brought the struggling drunk up and, as before, he repeated the question, "Did you find Him yet?"

The drunk finally caught his breath, shook his head and answered,

"Are you sure you lost him in this spot?"
